Karen Mantzouranis Honored with 2025 Past President Award

The Past President Award is presented by the New Jersey Warehouse & Movers Association (NJWMA) to recognize the leadership, dedication, and service of an outgoing president whose contributions have strengthened the Association and the moving industry.

At the NJWMA's 56th Annual Convention at the Golden Nugget in Atlantic City, Karen Mantzouranis was recognized with the 2025 Past President Award in appreciation of her exceptional leadership and years of service.

Before joining the moving industry, Karen had a successful career in marketing. She later joined her husband, Tom, at their family business, Main Street Movers in Berkeley Heights, and in 2016, she was elected to the NJWMA Board of Directors. From the start, she made a lasting impression—spearheading the Communications Committee, developing the Association's Movers for Consumers campaign, and creating consistent, high-quality communications that strengthened NJWMA's connection with members and the public.

In 2023, Karen stepped into the role of President when the need arose, leading with enthusiasm, focus, and compassion. Her steady leadership and marketing expertise guided NJWMA through important transitions and industry challenges. Though she stepped down from the Board in early 2025 to focus on family and business, she remains an active supporter and friend of the Association.

During the ceremony, her team members from Main Street Movers, Alex and Adam, accepted the award on her behalf. In a statement, Karen shared, "It has been a great privilege to serve the Association. While the work has not been without challenges, it has been deeply rewarding. Our Board, Executive Director, and members have shown that with unity of purpose and engagement, we can meet challenges head-on and continue moving our industry forward."

NJWMA extends heartfelt gratitude to Karen for her leadership, commitment, and lasting contributions to the moving community.
